Acclaimed Disney/Pixar Artist to Paint Mural for Hawai'i Museum

WHO: World-renowned artist, Levi Ponce, will be painting a large mural on the building of Oahu-based outdoor museum, Hawaii Plantation Village, over the course of two days.

WHAT: The theme of the mural is connected to the strength and positive impact immigrants have made in Hawaii, connecting to the mission of Hawaii Plantation Village.

WHERE: Hawaii's Plantation Village - 94-695 Waipahu St, Waipahu, HI 96797

WHEN: October 22nd and 23rd from 9 am-2 pm both days.

WHY: The mural project is initiated by Hawaii Technology Academy (HTA), the state's largest tuition-free public charter school. HTA is in a year-long partnership with Hawaii Plantation Village and connected the artist to the organization. Students from HTA will be joining Ponce on October 23 to assist him with creating the mural.

Ponce has been working with communities to create art that inspires. He is best known for the Mural Mile project in Los Angeles. His talents can be seen in the films Interstellar, Star Wars, Frozen, and Pixar's Coco, among others. Ponce works with traditional and digital media to develop large scale graphics and artwork for clients like Walt Disney Parks & Resorts, Activision, Sony, Toyota, 23 and Me, Dunkin' Donuts, iHeartRadio, Modelo, Mun2, Disney XD, and many others.
